

4

unit

| | |
|--|--|
| clever ['kleɪvə] go to college [gəʊ tə 'kɒlɪdʒ] department [di'pɑ:tmənt] | |
| Who is the cleverest person you know? Do clever students usually go to college? If you study in the English department, what can you become? How many departments does a large hospital have? | I think my wife is the cleverest person I know. Yes, clever students usually go to college. If you study in the English department, you can become a teacher of English. A large hospital has more than twenty departments. |
| behave [bi'hæv] behaviour [bi'hævjə] | |
| How should students behave during the lesson? Do teenagers behave badly at school? Do you always know how to behave? When can a child's behaviour make his or her mother angry? | Students should behave quietly and answer questions during the lesson. Yes, teenagers often behave badly at school. No, I don't always know how to behave. A child's behaviour can make his or her mother angry when the child behaves very badly. |

Here are some more irregular verb forms.

the present

forget [fə'get]
drive [draɪv]
begin [bi'gɪn]
bring [brɪŋ]
dream [dri:m]

the past

forgot [fə'gɒt]
drove [drəʊv]
began [bi'gæn]
brought [brɔ:t]
dreamt [dremt]

the past participle

forgotten [fə'gɒtɪn]
driven ['drɪvɪn]
begun [bi'gʌn]
brought [brɔ:t]
dreamt [dremt]

| | |
|--|--|
| What are the verb forms of 'forget'? Have you ever forgotten to come to school? What are the verb forms of 'drive'? Have you ever driven a Porsche? What are the verb forms of 'begin'? When did you begin this course? What are the verb forms of 'bring'? Have you brought any presents for us today? What are the verb forms of 'dream'? What did you dream about last night? | The verb forms of 'forget' are 'forget, forgot, forgotten'. Yes, I've forgotten to come to school. The verb forms of 'drive' are 'drive, drove, driven'. No, I've never driven a Porsche. The verb forms of 'begin' are 'begin, began, begun'. I began this course in September. The verb forms of 'bring' are 'bring, brought, brought'. No, I haven't brought any presents for you today. The verb forms of 'dream' are 'dream, dreamt, dreamt'. I dreamt about holidays in Greece last night. |
| pain [peɪn] kick [kɪk] Do you ever get back pain? Do people smile when they feel pain? Would you feel great pain if a horse kicked you? Do boys like kicking a ball around? | Yes, I sometimes get back pain. No, people don't smile when they feel pain, but they sometimes cry. Yes, I would feel great pain if a horse kicked me. Yes, boys like kicking a ball around. |
| greet [gri:t] greeting ['gri:tɪŋ] guy [gaɪ] Do you know this guy's name? How did I greet you when I came into the classroom? Would you be surprised if a guy who you didn't know greeted you? What do we write on a card that we send our friends when we are on holiday in Spain? | Yes, I know this guy's name. You greeted us by saying 'Hello' when you came into the classroom. Yes, I'd be surprised if a guy who I didn't know greeted me. We write 'Greetings from Spain' on a card that we send our friends when we are on holiday in Spain. |

website ['websaɪt]
web [web]
reality [ri'æləti]
virtual ['vɜ:tʃuəl]

The web address of this school is www.perfectenglish.sp

Where can you find information about most businesses?

You can find information about most businesses on their websites.

Does this school have a website? So what's the web address?

Yes, this school has a website. The web address is ...

What's the noun of 'real'?

The noun of 'real' is 'reality'.

Why do some people prefer virtual reality to real life?

Some people prefer virtual reality to real life because they think real life is boring and difficult.

Do you agree that the virtual reality of computer games attracts too many young people?

Yes, I agree that the virtual reality of computer games attracts too many young people.

reflexive [ri'fleksɪv]
myself, yourself, himself ...

reflexive pronouns

We use reflexive pronouns when the subject and the object are the same person.

e.g. He taught himself Spanish.
I washed myself quickly.

I – myself [maɪ'self]

we – ourselves [aʊə'selvz]

you – yourself [jʊ:'self]

you – yourselves [jʊ:'selvz]

he – himself [hɪm'self]

they – themselves [ðeɪm'selvz]

she – herself [ʃi:'self]

it – itself [ɪt'self]

Write a reflexive pronoun in each gap.

- The boy taught ... himself ... French.
- Some people talk to a lot.
- The beautiful woman saw in the mirror.
- I never talk to
- We can't laugh at
- You must not forget about to watch videos, scan the QR code or type in the link <http://www.dlhub.eu/start/EN3U04V>

Give me the reflexive pronouns, please.

The reflexive pronouns are myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves and themselves.

Where can you see yourself?

I can see myself in a mirror.

Do you think I talk to myself?

Yes, I think you sometimes talk to yourself.

Do you talk to yourself a lot?

No, I don't talk to myself a lot.

Does she talk to herself a lot?

No, she doesn't talk to herself a lot.

Does he talk to himself a lot?

Yes, he talks to himself a lot.

Should we be able to laugh
at ourselves?

*Yes, we should be able to laugh
at ourselves.*

Why is it difficult?

Because we like to think that we are cleverer than other people.

Do men talk about themselves
more than women?

*Yes, men talk about themselves
more than women.*

Do parents want children to behave themselves?

*Yes, parents want children to behave
themselves.*

Travelling • Additional questions

How long does it take to get to the nearest airport?

At what speed should we drive on a motorway?

Have you ever driven a Porsche?

Have you ever flown in a plane?

Are people happy if their flight is late?

If you are a tourist in New York, will you take the subway?

Where would you go if you needed a train ticket?

Are railways expensive in this country?

to do online exercises, scan the QR code or type in the link <http://www.dlhub.eu/start/EN3U04E>